

Erratum

R. L. Palma, in New Zealand Journal of Zoology, vol. 27, No. 2, June 2000.

A confusion at the printing stage, about the strict meaning of punctuation in the species synonymies, has introduced six identical errors. The semicolon placed between the louse species epithet and the name of the author needs to be deleted in each of the following six entries. Each of these entries is the citation to the original publication of each name. The correct way to cite them is:
